STA's Full Time Programme fees are based on our players not training at the Academy for up to 17 weeks a year. For example, training in a home country; travelling independently to tournaments; going on holiday etc. Our Full Time Programme incurs an annual fee with termly payments, which do not vary depending on how much a player trains in that term. If a player is away from the Academy for more than 17 weeks during the year, a new agreement can be discussed.

STA can also provide even more bespoke programmes with more or less training sessions based on the player's individual needs - these can be discussed in more detail with the team and would be reflected in the fees.

Full Time 'trials' (training only) are charged at our standard Access Player rate, however, this charge (of 1 week maximum) is deducted from the first Full Time Player invoice should the player join the Academy as a Full Time Player within 12 months of their trial.
